Accidents kill one, injure four

Two accidents within a seven-hour period left one person dead and four people injured Tuesday.

John E. Ostenson, 32, the president of a Massachusetts snowmaking equipment company, was killed instantly at 12:45 a.m. Tuesday morning on the Sunday River Road in Bethel.

Ostenson, of Winchester, Mass., and a passenger, Peter Geiss, 43, also of Winchester, were traveling north on the Sunday River Road when their car went off the road and struck a utility pole, according to state trooper Richard McAllister.

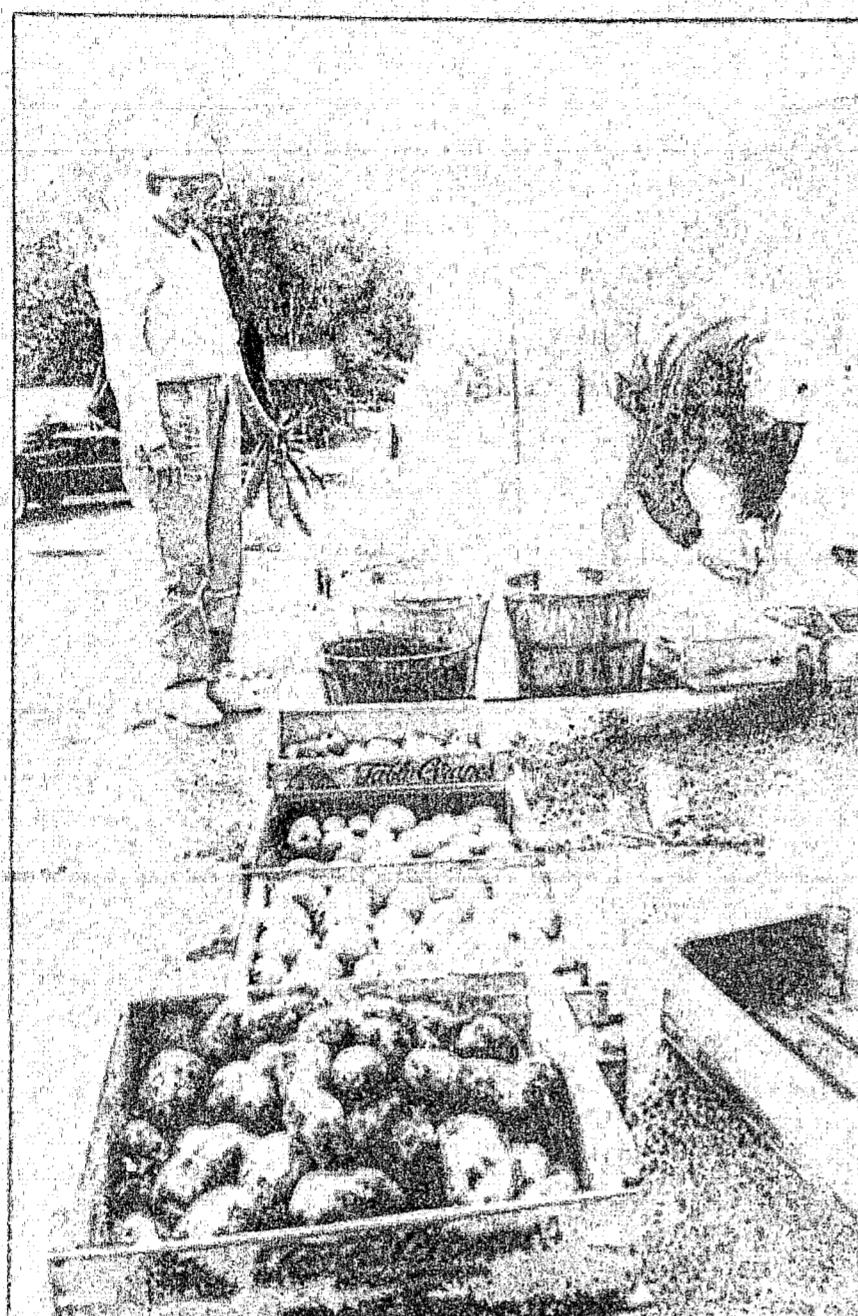

McAllister said the two men had just left the Sunday River Brewing Company. "He had accelerated as fast as he could. The accident happened about three-tenths of a mile from the brewing company," McAllister said.

The Bethel Fire Department used the jaws of life to remove victims' legs in Pacemaker Garage, just out on the east end of town, taken to Central Maine Medical Center in Lewiston where he underwent surgery. A leg and spine injury suffered by Geiss, and he was sent to a hospital with chest injuries.

At the scene, firefighters waited for the accident victim to be transported while the other man was still unconscious and unresponsive when he was found.

He said Ostenson, a resident of Scituate, had been driving the Sunday River Road to the River Street Bridge, about a mile west of town, when he lost control of his vehicle.

SMALL RAIN, SMALL RELIEF—Rain Saturday put an appealing sheen on Keith Hodson's produce at the Bethel Farmers Market, but the intermittent showers did little else for local agriculture, which is suffering through the worst drought in decades. Despite the dry weather, Sharon Merrill of Bethel and visitor Henry Malcolm still found plenty of fresh vegetables to choose from at Hodson's stand.

Parkway bids low; work could start by next week

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The south end of the Bethel Station Parkway is expected to be awarded this week.

The Maine Department of Transportation received four bids on the project, all of which were below MDOT's estimate of $1.1 million, said Allen Knobell, a press spokesman for the department. MDOT is probably to award the bid from a developer, he said, he added.

The low bid, of $1,063,177, came from Pratt & Son Inc. of Mechanic Falls. The three remaining bids ranged from $1,066,876.28 to $1,557,344.00.

The project includes two major components: the parkway itself and construction of Lincoln Street, including water, sewer and storm drains.

The cost of the parkway component, approximately $700,000, is being paid for by MDOT using a 80/20 mix of federal and state funds. (Prior to the initiation of the Bethel Station project, MDOT had committed to a design-build contract with a developer for the entire project, but the state has since withdrawn from the deal.)

Knobell said the developer will be awarded the contract on Friday.

Ambulance barn to roll on Thursday

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Monday will be well-advised to avoid Cross Street in Bethel, as the fire truck and ambulance will be making its way slowly down the hill to Main Street.

The renovation and new foundation, built just off the Kroc Center, completed, repeated the final phase of the last few months, completed by October 18 months ago.

The new barn is expected to be ready for use by the end of October, according to developer Heme Merritt. Until the building is ready, the Bethel Emergency Ambulance Rescue Service will continue operating from temporary quarters in the former L. E. Davis Garage.

That day's move is scheduled to begin just before 11 a.m., after the flatbed buses have returned to the SAD44 garage.

Due to long hours have been allocated for the move, Bob Lewis, Mayor Melville Henthay said it would be more realistic to assume that Cross Street will be closed for most of the day.

The section of lower Main Street between Cross and Railroad Streets will also be closed when the barn makes its final approach to its new home.

Rebels field deep hockey squad

By ALISON ALOISIO

Telstar field hockey coach Gail Wight hopes she can translate depth into victory this season.

A turnout of 43 players holds the promise of a good season and a strong showing in the playoffs.

Last year's Rebels posted a 7-5 record in the Mountain Valley Conference, then lost 1-0 to Yarmouth in the first round of playoffs.

Working to improve on that are 10 returning varsity players, who are joined by 10 others moving up from the J.V. team. Several other J.V. players may move up later in the season.

This year's initial lineup: forwards Katy Mullen (Senior co-captain), Liza Fyrberg (Jr.), Sarah Richardson (Jr.), Megan Meisner (Jr.), Kelli Szente (Jr.), Rachel Fogg (Jr.), Darcie Howard (Jr.), Beth Howe (Jr.) and Michelle McInnis (So.); links Carrie Mason (Jr.) and Monica Rolfe (Jr.); halfbacks M.J.

How dry we are!

Crops shrivel, wells go dry, foliage browns out

By ALISON ALOISIO

Dry wells, small apples, stunted corn and foliage that is turning too brown in the Bethel area is bearing the fruit of a summer-long drought. The rain that fell Saturday did little to help the situation. Sunday's wind quickly dried the fields and woods.

The only thing being dampened seems to be the region's autumn economy.

Early foliage

Some foliage, particularly that of birch trees, is changing two to three weeks early and then going quickly to brown. That's a concern to area businesses that rely on a good turnout of leaf peepers.

John Martin, manager of the Sudbury Inn, said people outside New England who have made reservations months in advance for late September and October may be in for a rude awakening.

"We haven't had any cancellations yet, but word hasn't gotten back to California. We're worried that people will find in Portland, and so on, say there's no foliage and want to cancel," Martin said.

"We have a two-week cancellation policy. Do we say we're sorry, or write it off?"

99 percent of Ernie Neiberle's pumpkin and squash crop is lost

He said he hopes people with reservations will still come to Bethel for other reasons.

"There are lots of other fun things to do. We're trying to be as positive as we can. There's nothing we can do about the foliage. It's like a hurricane in the Caribbean—an act of nature," he said.

Martin also said he is hopeful the inn will pick up some early, walk-in foliage visitors.

Baird Douglass of the Douglass Plaza Bed and Breakfast in Mayville also hopes the tourists will return.

"We all depend on them," she said.

Douglass said her long-range foliage season reservations made over the past months are down, but isn't sure why -- it's unlikely people were anticipating the weather that far ahead.

Word about the foliage has certainly gotten out in southern New England. Leaves there are changing early as well -- if they're lucky. In Connecticut, white oaks, chestnuts, and sugar maples are dropping their leaves while they are still green.

Orchards, farms -- mixed reviews

Bethel area orchardists and farmers are either counting their blessings or their losses, generally depending on how close they are to a river.

"I've never seen anything like this," said Herb Lyon of Bethel. Lyon has grown mostly MacIntosh and Cortland apples at his Grover Hill orchard since 1953.

He expects to get about 10 bushels a tree from trees that usually produce 15 to 25. He said the apples are smaller than normal.

"The trees on higher ground are really hurting. Some of the smaller trees were planted where there's

Local unemployment drops

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The local joblessness picture improved somewhat in the latest figures released by the Maine Department of Labor, but unemployment remains to run much higher than state and national levels.

The most recent figures are for the month of July. They show unemployment in the Rumford Area Market (which includes the SAD44 area) to be at 8 percent, down from 9.7 percent from the previous month, and from 9.2 percent the same time last year.

Unemployment in Oxford County is at 6.3 percent in July, compared to 8.4 percent in July 1994.

Statewide, unemployment was at 4.7 percent in July, down from 5.7 in July of 1994.

National unemployment for July was 5.9 percent, and down slightly from the July 1994 national figure of 6.2 percent.

Woods earnings up

The report also reflected good news for one major sector of the local economy.

Average weekly earnings in the lumber and woods products industry rose from $841.11 in July of 1994 to $840.75 in July of this year. Average hourly earning over the same period rose from $9.41 to $9.85.

No comparable figures are available for service sector categories, but a strong tourism season is believed to be responsible for the state's low overall unemployment figure for July, according to Gerard Dennison, a senior economic analyst for the state Department of Labor.

Employment in the amusement and recreation sector was also up somewhat, Dennison said, as was employment in construction and retail trade.

TRAPPING IS BARBARIC

To the Editor:

Regarding the article a few weeks ago pertaining to "Neil Olson's Trapline Adventure Stories," I was dismayed and appalled by Olson's glorification of such a barbaric, and in this day and age, unnecessary "sport" as trapping. How anyone can be amused by the suffering and decimation of animals is truly sad and disdainful, to say the least.

Not only was the featured illustration in poor taste (crude, amateurish cartoon of two men holding their kill of two adult and one baby beaver), but the titles of the chapters are equally as primitive ("Sex on the Beach," "Having Sex") and prove just how insensitive, archaic and ridiculous this type of thinking is in the '90s.

The paper also included an ad for Trappers' Weekend, (I hope this was a paid ad) which portrayed children, smiling faces and good ole' summer fun. If the promoters of this event had a truthful ad, which included photos of brutally trapped, frightened and suffering animals chewing on their extremities to free themselves, I wonder what draw they would have. How appropriate is it for children, especially young impressionable boys seeking the approval of their fathers, to emulate such violence towards living creatures?

I recently read a quote from Jeremy Betham which seems so appropriate here: "The question is not can they (animals) reason, nor can they talk, but can they suffer?"

My guess is that the book will pass by, unnoticed. My fear is that trapping and this unsympathetic view towards the suffering of animals will continue until children are educated about the moral and environmental reasons to cherish and preserve our wildlife (which already struggles in such a fragile and ever-changing world), and until this pitiful "sport" becomes completely unprofitable.

BISBEE WAS ONE OF THE BEST

To the Editor:

I've read it all now! The "stern gaze" of Ethel Bisbee might be too much for small children to handle. Good Lord! What has happened to my home town?

I was a student of Mrs. Bisbee, approximately 36 years ago. Mrs. Bisbee was no pushover. Touchy-feely was not part of her persona. Promptness, obedience and compliance, although painful for some, were mastered in order to move on to the next grade. Many of us have done especially well in our life pursuits.

That some adults are concerned that her picture causes fear in some children - good for you for being responsible to your children! A suggestion: find out what's really going on with these kids. I highly doubt that Doug Bates created his artwork to scare children. And if it's been 36 years, after all these years why is it now so fearful?

Five teachers had as much influence on my brothers, my peers, and me as Mrs. Bisbee. If I may acknowledge Miss Helen Varner and Mrs. Lillian Gunther, you both join Mrs. Bisbee on my "best teacher" list.

Move on, Bethel! If you can't respect Mrs. Bisbee in the environment where she affected us most, at least find a respectful home for this very special woman.

HOPE STORY INSPIRES OTHERS

To the Editor:

The article featuring Tavis Keskola in last week's paper was very well done and demonstrates Alison Alisio's sensitivity and writing ability. We at the Adult Education program are also very proud of Mr. Keskola and hope that his story will encourage others to continue their learning. The staff at the Adult Learning Center, Lee Dolleman and Jeanette Butbridge, are ready to assist adult learners with their goals, ranging from basic skills in reading, writing and math, to high school completion and brush up for college or work. Kay Larson is available to assist with career guidance and planning for higher education.

Anyone who is interested in more information about our program, or specifically about high school completion, is welcome to call me at 824-2744. Our graduation is scheduled for Tuesday, May 28, 1996; we know that Tavis Keskola will be there and hope that he will have a lot of impact!

Again, thank you for the wonderful article.

Briefly

Woodstock town garage broken into

WOODSTOCK--Vandals have been getting into the old town garage near the library on Route 26, according to town manager Vern Maxfield. The garage is used for storage. Maxfield said access was gained by breaking doors or pulling boards away from the bottom of the outside walls. Road commissioner Percy Monk said oil and grease had been spilled, and small items set on fire. Maxfield suggested at last week's selectmen's meeting that a few hundred dollars be spent to patch up the garage enough to keep the vandals out for the winter. The town could then plan a more thorough repair job on the building for another year. Selectmen also plan to call a special Town Meeting in early October. The tentative warrant includes articles for the adoption of minimum lot and holding tank ordinances, as well as another to rescind a vote at the regular Town Meeting in March regarding distribution of Woodstock scholarship money. Townspersons had voted to give money that had been left over in the fund to past Telstar graduates. Maxfield said that vote was procedurally illegal because it changed the body of the warrant article.

Five escape injury on Cross St.

BETHEL--Five people escaped injury Saturday afternoon when two vehicles collided at the intersection of Cross Street and Route 2. A car driven by Carolyn Brennan, 30, of Brooklyn, N.Y., was traveling west on Route 2. Brennan attempted to turn left onto Cross St., and was struck by an east-bound pick-up truck driven by Bethany Espanola, 25, of Worcester, Mass. Brennan's passenger, Thomas Brennan, and Espanola's passengers, Mindy and Christopher Robinson, were checked by Bethel Rescue, as were the drivers. All refused transport to a hospital.

Langlois appointed to School Board

NEWRY--Selectmen last week appointed David Langlois to replace Martin Hinkle on the SAD44 School Board. Hinkle resigned Sept. 4, after serving five months of a three-year term. At this week's meeting, selectmen authorized fire department officials to negotiate the purchase of a 1980 Ford pumper truck to replace the present 1956 truck.

D.A. urges locker searches

PORLTAND--Cumberland County schools have been urged to conduct random searches of student lockers for drugs and alcohol, but the Maine Civil Liberties Union says searches are one more step in the erosion of students' rights. Changes in search-and-seizure law have given educators more latitude to search lockers for drugs and alcohol -- as long as they have a clear policy stating they intend to do so, Cumberland County District Attorney Stephanie Anderson said in a letter to schools. Administrators at several school districts have a policy of opening a specific locker if they have reason to believe it contains contraband. But Anderson's letter said more widespread searches are allowed. As a result, some schools are considering toughening their policies and may institute random searches. The prosecutor said in a fact sheet sent to schools that if they don't assert their right to conduct random searches, they could lose it. "School officials should conduct periodic health and safety searches ... even if no violations of the law or school rules are suspected," the document advised. The MCCLU asserts such searches go too far.

Appalachian Trail goes international

PORLTAND--A group working to extend the Appalachian Trail into Canada has received permission to establish 11 miles of trail along the U.S.-Canadian border. The section will become part of a segment of the trail that starts on the north slope of Mars Hill Mountain and continues to Fort Fairfield. Former Gov. Joseph Brennan had proposed extending the trail in 1994. Representatives from Maine, Quebec, and New Brunswick have been working on the project since then. The proposed international trail would extend from Mount Katahdin to Mt. Carleton in New Brunswick, then continue westward to Mt. Jacques Cartier on Quebec's Gaspe Peninsula. The group has set a goal of establishing the full route, about 434 miles, by April of 2000.

State ski areas losing money

FRANCONIA, N.H.--Most of the people who testified at two hearings on how to operate New Hampshire's state-run ski areas want the state to keep the areas, even though it's a losing proposition for the budget. Many witnesses at legislative hearings in Franconia and Newport suggested better advertising, fewer tree tickets and improvements at Mount Sunapee and Cannon Mountain might turn them around. Others, however, said the state should not be spending money on skiing, when it is cutting things like medical benefits to the elderly. The mountains have lost at least $1 million combined a year for the last five years. Some at the hearing thought the state would likely be able to dictate terms to private companies that might lease the ski operations. "There is no money in Concord," said Franconia Inn owner Richard Morris. "I am for a change."

Dry spell closes Washington school

WASHINGTON--Students at Prescott Memorial School had an abbreviated return to classes last week after the school's water supply failed and they were sent home early, according to the Knox County Courier-Gazette. The school staff realized the middle of the day last Tuesday that the building was without water. Plumbers were testing the well and its holding capacity and current water level late in the week, trying to determine when the school might reopen.

Motorcyclists donate to Toys for Tots

AUGUSTA--Maine's governor and congressional delegation joined an annual charity motorcycle run that drew 10,000 bikers Sunday. A total of 20,000 motorcyclists and passengers brought an estimated $200,000 worth of gifts -- mostly stuffed animals -- that were packed in three trucks. The presents will be distributed by the Salvation Army at Christmas as part of the Toys for Tots program. Toys for Tots serves poor children across the state. A leather-jacketed Gov. Angus King drove a Harley-Davidson at the front of the miles-long pack that roared across Augusta. The annual event began in 1981, when about 300 bikers brought gifts to the capital.

$50,000 pool tournament in Portland

PORLTAND--Spot Shots Billiards in Portland will be the site of a pool tournament this week that features many of the world's top players. Prize money will be close to $50,000. Spot Shots manager Kerry Herbert said it is the largest tournament in New England history. Former world champion Grady Mathews will be one participant. Mathews had a starring role in the Tom Cruise/Paul Newman film "The Color of Money." Herbert said the hall has room for about 300 fans, and he expects all the seats to be filled.

Rock & roll on Channel 10

LEWISTON--A history of the music that has rocked the world for four decades is coming to public television. Rock & Roll, a 10-part series broadcast over five consecutive nights, begins Sunday, Sept. 24 at 9 p.m. on Maine Public Television stations. The program traces the evolution of rock music and the innovators who shaped it from the 1950's to the 1990's. From the story of Cholly Atkins, the man who choreographed the Temptations, to the reflections of Eric Clapton; from Carol King's insights about writing lyrics for the Shirelles to Madonna's success with "Vogue," to Run-DMC's thoughts about their career, Rock & Roll tells the 40-year tale of a popular art form. The series concludes on Sept. 28.

Wood exports up this year

WASHINGTON--U.S. wood exports are expected to reach a record $7.4 billion this year, with hardwood products leading the way. During the first half of the year, wood product exports rose 11 percent from the first half of last year, totaling $3.8 billion, according to the Agriculture Department's Foreign Agricultural Service. All of the top five markets for these products -- Japan, Canada, Germany, the United Kingdom and South Korea -- increased their purchases this year.

From the Bethel Police log:

Police called to too loud passion play at inn

On Sept. 7 at 10:50 p.m. a complainant came to the Police Department to report a male was possibly beating a female at the Bethel Inn, and that he might have a weapon. When police and two Oxford County Sheriff's Department units arrived, they could hear a female yelling loudly. They went to the second floor and listened for several seconds, and could still hear the female screaming and yelling. A loud thump was then heard, and the female began begging the male "not to" -- unknown what. The manager then knocked on the door and told them to open it. The male opened the door. He was not wearing any clothes, and the female was not in sight. Police asked the man what was going on, and he said nothing was going on. The female also said nothing was going on. There were no apparent marks on her, and she said everything was all right. It was apparent the two were involved in a sexual encounter, as there were items located throughout the room. The two were then warned to keep the noise down.

Also on Sept. 7

At 9:48 p.m. a Mechanic Street resident reported her live-in boyfriend had taken most of the belongings in the house and she wanted him to stop taking them. Police contacted the district attorney's office and determined it was a matter for civil court, as it was impossible to determine who the property really belonged to.

Friday, Sept. 8

At 5:15 p.m. a complainant called to report that while she and another subject were walking on Route 5 they observed two or three males talking with each other. When the complainant and her companion passed by, the males said they were looking for marijuana they had lost. Police later spoke with two male subjects on Route 2. While the officer was speaking with one, the other fled into the woods. The officer did not pursue as there were no charges.

At 6:08 p.m. police were asked to assist Bethel Rescue with a male choking on a piece of meat at the Bethel Inn. When the officer arrived he found the man was not choking -- he was just having a hard time swallowing the meat. The rescue unit arrived, and the man chose to be transported to the hospital.

Saturday, Sept. 9

At 12:56 a.m. a subject was stopped for speeding on Route 26. When the police officer approached the vehicle he observed a large bag of green, leafy material and smelled burning marijuana. The subject was asked to step from the vehicle and was given several commands. He was unable to do any of them. A large bag of what was believed to be marijuana was located behind the seat of the vehicle, and a pot pipe was found under the passenger seat. The subject was placed under arrest for OUI, transported to the Oxford County Sheriff's office, and given a breathalyzer test. The result was .11 percent. The subject was summoned for OUI, speeding, possession of drug paraphernalia, and possession of a civil amount of marijuana.

To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies. An answering machine takes calls when an officer is not in the office.*

more moisture, and those apples are reasonable," he said.

Lyon plans to delay the start of picking (which usually begins now) a few days, in the hope the apples will get a little more growth.

Dick Littlefield of the Rabbit Road in Bethel has similar problems.

"My Red Delicious apples are the size of golf balls," he said last week. "They're still good to eat, but people don't like apples that small because they don't want to peel them for apple pies."

Littlefield also said the dryness is making the apples fall off the trees early.

Frank Gibson of the Northwest Bethel Road is faring somewhat better. His orchard is near the Androscoggin River, and he has pumped water for the trees twice this summer.

"With a small orchard (two acres) I can do that," he said.

Farmer near the Androscoggin also benefited. Frank and Suzi Harrington's hay crop on Route 2 in Bethel, the second crop, was better than the first.

"The morning dew and fog near the river helped," Suzi said. "It has a lot to do with where your land sits."

But on Brad and Carla Phillips' dairy farm in Woodstock, the cows are already eating hay. The Phillips would like to save for winter.

They still their usual practice of taking grazing in their pastures but have worked well because the grass didn't grow back as quickly due to lack of water. So they've been feeding the cows more hay than usual for the time of year.

That's not good, considering the quantity of hay available. The Phillips usually get three crops per summer, but this year's third crop was inconsistent, according to Carla.

She also said some of their cattle are being fed up.

"It's a hard situation," she said.

Parkway

option Black Island previously awarded to Bethel.

Another extension on either side of the project will be the responsibility of the Bethel Stannan Developers.

As of today, the final finalization date is not yet being worked out among the town, the developers and MTCB, with the contract expected to be awarded by Paul & Son perhaps as early as today.

Work on the new road could be as early as next week.

Ready by Thanksgiving

The contract calls for the parkway but not the Lincoln Street section to be ready for traffic by mid-November. This would be just in time for the base east down the parkway and other major work would be completed during the following construction season.

"We just need to give them some time to get things back they can't do on the old road," said Smith.

Once the parkway is ready for traffic, the developers can ask to have the intersection of the parkway and Lincoln Street section started in the closest terms and negotiations to when the main highway would begin to when Lincoln Street intersects with Route 2.

The remaining section of Lincoln Street that runs parallel to Main Street, which is open, the closure would have to be appeal of what we need. Our ability to produce and deliver water at normal volumes is affected only slightly by how the brook is doing. It is affected by usage -- if that goes up suddenly to the limit, it could be a problem," he said.

Saunders said demand has been high this summer because of people watering lawns and plants, but it hasn't become critical. He said as long as customers are conservative with their water, there should be no reason for concern.

Saunders also said the wells which supply West Bethel are at good levels.

Fire danger still high

Denny Wilson said his logging crews have taken to carrying Indian tanks on their trucks. They also go back over their work area at the end of each day to check for fire. Wilson said it's the first time he's ever taken such measures.

Meanwhile, forest firefighters across Maine are on red alert. The high risk of a disaster has triggered a statewide plan for handling the worst possible scenarios. Spotter planes are up looking for fires, and six helicopters are spread across the state to reach fires in less than 30 minutes and start dropping water.

The U.S. Forest Service and Northeast Fire Service Compact have kept a C-130 aircraft, capable of dropping 3,000 gallons of water or fire retardant, to Manchester, N.H., to be used in case of a major fire in the northeast.

Although officials are confident the state can handle two fires of up to 3,000 acres each in different parts of Maine, few have experienced what it would be like to deal with a large fire in the Adirondacks.

"I feel like this place is not a fire bowl," said forest ranger Joe Crotzer of Bowlin. "I can't recall many nearly 20 years as a ranger being called in Sept. before."

"It's just not as good as it could have been."

Things are not as good as they could be in the pumpkin business, either. Ernie Niebler of the Deer Run Farm in Woodstock said 99 percent of his pumpkin and squash crop was wiped out.

Well business good

The only ones who seem to be benefiting from the drought are well-diggers and drillers.

Dana Goodwin of Goodwin Well Drilling in Turner is one. His company does a fair amount of business in the Bethel area.

"We've had about 20 requests for wells in the past two and a half weeks," he said Thursday.

Goodwin said dug wells and springs are going dry.

"People go one or two weeks without doing laundry, and then they call," he said.

Bethel Water District OKs

The board is finalizing its budget with the Bethel Water District.

Superintendent Bob Saunders and chairman Brooks are in negotiations.

"About a month ago, a state audit came up, and it didn't come up well," said Saunders. "It was a problem before."

"But building this summer has been down, so that makes the percentage a little higher, too," he said.

He said the last time it raised rates was in 1990, and it was 10 percent.

It's 10 to 10.5 cents per thousand.

Goodwin said the town and MTCB will have to be involved in the negotiations.

McAllister was assisted by Bethel Police chief Dale Bellman and officer Darren Tripp, as well as Bethel Rescue.

Telstar students injured

Three Telstar students on their way to school were injured around 7:30 a.m. in an accident on Route 5 in Albany, near Songo Pond.

Driver Brian Inman, 16, and passengers Dareth Howard, 15, and Jeremy Lapham, 16, were traveling north when the car went into the shoulder, according to state trooper Jim Corbett.

Corbett said Inman overcorrected, came back onto the road, and went into a spin, crashing into trees on the pond side of the road.

Inman was partially pinned in his seat, while Howard and Lapham were thrown from the car.

All three were taken by Bethel Rescue to Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway. Inman suffered a fractured ankle, and broken collarbone and shoulder blade; Lapham received a head laceration and a broken left elbow; and Howard was being evaluated for possible broken bones in her legs.

McAllister said driver inexperience was a factor in the accident.

— Inman got his driver's license in July. Speed is also being investigated, and could result in charges if found to be a factor.

He said neither passenger was wearing a seat belt. Since Maine law requires seat belts be worn by occupants under 19, charges could result there as well.

"If they had been wearing seat belts, they wouldn't have been ejected from the vehicle, and probably would have had only minor injuries. The damage was all on the driver's side," McAllister said.

All three occupants were from Albany. The car, a 1985 Volkswagen Golf, was totaled.

Hockey

An offense led by last year's leading scorer, junior Beth Howe, is the early season strength of the squad. Wight, though, is still looking for improvement.

"We want to score more goals than last year. Last season some shots just missed the cage, and in a conference where a lot of games were decided by one goal, you can't miss," Wight said last week.

The defense is rebuilding after losing several players to graduation.

"We're working on the defense to get the right combination," said Wight.

She said 20 freshmen have come out for field hockey this year, and a few may move up to the varsity over the course of the season. The overall turnout of 43 players is about a dozen more than usual.

The Mountain Valley Conference is becoming more balanced than in the past, Wight said, as more schools develop middle school programs to feed the high school teams.

"There used to be teams we could blow out — we can't do that anymore," she said.

Formidable opposition will come from defending Class B state champs Leavitt High School. Still, Wight is optimistic.

"We hope to stay in the top three teams in the conference, and go another step in the playoffs," she said.

They are trying to record important facts for posterity. Jerry Johnson is a patient at Central Maine Medical Center for bypass surgery.

What a nice summer it was.

Bradley and Ann enjoyed boating at Moosehead Lake on the weekend. The waters here were busy with boating. Milton and Eleanor Inman went touring just that, for fun. I didn't tour or go boating, but I had a pleasant weekend. I had supper Saturday evening with Larry and Jean Schafer at their camp. It was "A best" way to spend an evening. There's a radiant glow at an old friend's house that drives gloom away. On Sunday with the family there is always a glow, too, which I enjoy each week.

Heather, the Inman's granddaughter, visited me several days ago and brought sunshine, the same as Mary does Sundays at the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoyt recently entertained a family get-together with her parents and family members.

Mr. and Mrs. Andre Bernier visited Joe Bernier and family in Lowell on Sept. 4 for a family picnic.

Lisa Haines left for the University of Maine at Farmington on Sept. 4.

Aube, on Sept. 2, at her parents' home, Carrie was driven to the ceremony in a wagon owned by Fred Burke and driven by Dick Douglass and his horses. A wonderful day for the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Olson and sons, Karl and Kane, attended Carrie Olson's wedding on Sept. 2.

Kane and Karl Olson's Minor League Baseball Teams were the champions in Bethel's baseball system this summer.

Kane Olson got an award for Most Valuable Pitcher in the league.

Marilyn Mollicone of Augusta, Carolyn Grant of Winterport, Alice Grant of Cape Elizabeth, and Priscilla Jackson and children of Old Town visited Leslie Noyes and Nina Mollicone on Sept. 24.

74th birthday.

Sunday afternoon guests here for a cookout were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prble of Nashua, N.H. and Paul and Robin Poissan, their daughter and friend Gloria also of Nashua, who were at their summer camp here. Monday morning Harry, Paul and Robin joined Norma and David for a hike to the top of the hill up back.

The new fence along the front of the Songo Cemetery adds much to its appearance.

Wednesday visitors at the Wentzell cottage were: Mrs. Rose Dyer, Mrs. Dot Orino, Mrs. Ethel Herr and myself.

Phyllis and Bill Bancroft and two of his sisters, Mrs. Agnes Lahti and Mrs. Alma Gardner of Waterford rode to Farmington last Thursday and also visited their sister's grave in the Wilton cemetery.

"Between the Lines"

Dear Friends & Neighbors,
The sights and sounds, and smells [and temperatures] of fall are here for awhile. With the kids back in school, what could be better than an afternoon cup of tea and a few minutes with a good book? Or maybe your time to read is at bedtime. No matter, we can help you pick out a "Good Book". Then, how about listening to some great music? We have a full line of budget cassettes and CD's, as well as a good sampling of new age and folk. Something for everyone.

We have a good selection of Halloween cards.

Hope to see you soon!

Erlon and Maude Alice Hadley are celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary this month and will be taking a trip to Cape Cod. Congratulations!

Last Tuesday Tommy Poland, Janet Benson and I went to lunch at Country Way in South Paris. We all wanted to go there as it will be closing soon. They always have good food and a lot of people will miss this well-known restaurant.

September birthdays I missed last time are Troy Ryerson, Joshua Appleby, Linda Smith and Darlene Hadley. Hope you all had a nice birthday.

Recent visitors at Nick and Marta Clements were their son, David and wife, Audrey and their granddaughter, Caroline, who will be one year old this month. David and family live in Birmingham, Alabama. Also, another son, Bruce and wife, Cindy and granddaughter, Sarah from Weare, N.H. spent some time with Nick and Marta. They all went to Northport to attend a Robertson/Clements reunion. Nick and Marta's other son, Eric, had planned to get home while everyone was here but had to work.

Barbara and Allen Goldberg and children from Scarsdale, N.Y. visited Nick and Marta on two separate occasions recently.

I saw Emily and Lacy Phillips proudly displaying the animals they will be taking to the Eastern State Fair in Massachusetts this month. Good luck.

We sure are having a dry spell. I hope we get some rain soon. The foliage is starting to change already.

Shane Billings has started college at the University of Hartford, in Hartford, Conn. His parents, Mac and Tammy Billings, and sister Bridget took him on Saturday. We wish him the best of luck.

Lori and Dawn Davis, daughters of Phil and Sonja Davis have also left for their colleges. Lori is attending the University of Maine at Farmington and Dawn is at Trinity College in Vermont. We wish them the best.

A good sale was held at the Pinhook Community Building on Saturday.

Rob Davis has harvested quite a few squash and pumpkins. It's a wonder anything grows in the dry soil.

Work is progressing on the new home of Burch, and Roseanne Broomhall and Carroll Verrell.

A small get-together was held at the home of Lee and Emma Billings on Monday in honor of Emma's birthday. A cake was made by Louise Chapman. Those attending were Bridget, Mac and Tammy Billings; Kyle, Brian, Tim and Mary Gray; Linda Tyler; Sue, Tony, Joelle and Errol Silver. Emma enjoyed the company and the gifts.

Lee Billings had some visitors over the weekend: Herschel and Betty Abbott, Homer and Betty Smith, and Caroline Brown.

The Silvers were camping over the weekend at Black Brook Cove Campground on Aziscoos Lake. Also camping were Robert and Ruby Silver; Don, Michelle and Kami Marois of West Paris; Peg, Al, Ally and Kristy Silver; Judy Swallow; Billy, Tammy and Austin Silver; Richard and Patricia Austin,

OXFORD POMONA GRANGE

On Sept. 5 Oxford Pomona Grange met at the Frederick Robie Grange in Otisfield for a regular meeting and installation of officers for the coming year. A delicious supper with barbecued chicken preceded the meeting.

An impressive ceremony, by candlelight, was conducted by Wayne Sherman, chaplain of the Maine State Grange. He was assisted by Susanne Verrill as the installing master; Steven Verrill as the chaplain; Linda Sherman, state Ceres, was the first marshall with Janna Rosenberry as second marshall; Roberta Mervine, state Flora, was the emblem bearer; and Susie Mervine of the State Youth Committee was the regalia bearer. Louise Roberts was the pianist and Frances Berry of the State Lecturer's Committee was the soloist.

Officers for the new year are: master, Raymond Tripp, Jr.; overseer, Russell Yates; lecturer, Stanley Howe; steward, James Lowe; chaplain, Ethel Lacour; secretary, Gail Butterfield; Treasurer, Anna Woodworth; assistant steward, Randy Jack; lady assistant steward, Linda Jack; gatekeeper, Harold Canwell; Ceres, Lucille Robbins; Pomona, Linona (Peggy) Blake; Flora, Olive Risko; Richard Felt, member of the Executive Committee; Dorothy Canwell, pianist. These officers come from six different subordinate Granges in Bryant Pond, East Bethel, Harrison, Norway, Oxford and Rumford.

Other state officers or committee members present were: Hazel Compton, state treasurer; Louis Bisbee, deputy; Myrtle Bushee Jr., deputy; Stanley Howe, legislative committee; James Lowe, membership committee; Randy and Linda Jack of the Good of the Order Committee.

During the business meeting the officers gave their annual reports and a change in the bylaws was proposed to increase the annual dues from $2 to $4. This will be voted on at the next meeting, which will be held at Franklin Grange in Bryant Pond on Oct. 3. The Fifth Degree will be conferred at that time. A rehearsal is scheduled for 2 p.m. on Oct. 1 at Bryant Pond.

Jackson-Silver Auxiliary

The first regular meeting of the new season was held on Sept. 7.

A project which the Unit has been working on for some time is to obtain pictures of all the past presidents. Recently the photos of Annie Noyes, elected in 1926; Grace Emery, '29; and Georgia Brooks, '32 were received due to the efforts of Dorothy McGraw, Grace Evans and others of their family. Still needed are Edith Jackson '22, Jenine Currier '25, Basha Ackley '27, Bertha Austin '33 and Myrtle Clifford '35. If anyone has a picture of any of these ladies or knows where they might be obtained the members would be most grateful to hear from you.

In the remainder of the month the Unit will serve a light lunch at 1 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 17 before the Flag Disposal Ceremony by the Post at 2 p.m. Some of the members will just have returned from the National Leadership Workshop in Westborough, Mass. There will be a meeting of Oxford County Council at Buckfield on Sept. 19 and a regular Post and Unit meeting on Sept. 21. The annual Fall Conference is Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 in Millinocket and at least two members plan to attend.

In October there will be another musical supper on Oct. 10 with the Parisians furnishing the dance music. The meal will be a boiled dinner topped off with homemade apple, squash and pumpkin pies. The cost will be $6.

On Oct. 19 those who were delegates to Boys and Girls State last June will be honored with a supper to which their families are also invited.

At the present time the Unit members are busy selling chances on a quilt made by member Shirley Lowell. It is queen size, covered with beautiful cross stitch and machine quilted. Shirley says it took her two years to do the whole thing. Proceeds will be used to upgrade and maintain the kitchen equipment at the Legion Hall in Locke Mills.

GREENWOOD HISTORICAL

The Greenwood Historical Society met Sept. 6 for the regular meeting with president Joan Kimball presiding. There were 18 members in attendance. Mary Bean and Arthur Hertell became new members.

Life member of the society, Gilbert Woodsum of Saugus, Mass., who was celebrating his 98th birthday recently came to Locke Mills to visit places dear to him in his childhood. He was accompanied here by his grandson, Stephen Woodsum and wife, from Kent's Hill, and joined around by Blaine Mills.

NOYES REUNION

The 3rd Noyes reunion was held at Twitchell Pond in Greenwood on Aug. 26. There were 52 in attendance, from as far away as Pennsylvania and Florida. Co-presidents for this year were Hugh and Dione Swan.

A potluck dinner was served and a brief business meeting followed. Co-presidents for 1996 are Sherbourne and Tracy Noyes. The secretary is Debra Swan. Adelaide Gerrish of Portland was the oldest and Rachelle O'Neil of Augusta was the youngest. Everyone enjoyed the warm, sunny weather and a few from the younger generation also swam.

FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR COMMUNITY HISTORIES

The Maine Humanities Council has announced the availability of funds statewide to nonprofit organizations interested in developing Community History Projects.

For projects starting in September 1995, as much as $80,000 will be available over a two-year period for grants ranging from $50 to $750. The Community History Grant Program is a primary component of "The Century Project: Modern Times in Maine & America, 1890-1930," a two-year initiative intended to stimulate a renewed public awareness of the crucial role the early 20th century played in shaping our modern identity.

The Community History Grant Program is intended to encourage people in Maine to learn more about themselves and the significance of the 20th century by investigating the history of 40 franchises, businesses, sites, and country in the early student years of the century. It is felt that the program will lead to evaluations, new discoveries, community and individual research, as well as other programs of many kinds.

"While much is known about America in this period, states like Maine culture and history are only just beginning to discover the stories that can make sense of modern times in Maine," said council associate director Rhoda D'Antonio. Her answers are all around us, answers start to look. They are in the artifacts, in letters, in photographs, and memorabilia. They are in oral histories, interviews, and collections of old documents and in the hands and words of scholars and local historians. Perhaps most importantly, the answers are in the living memories of people still here around us, older continuing to projects. Application deadlines are quarterly: Sept. 30, Dec. 15, March 15, June 15.

Those who are interested in applying will be assisted in their program planning by a community history workbook and the council's introductory video, "Modern Times in Maine and America." Filled with interviews, early moving pictures, rare photographs, and great music, this half-hour video, made specifically for the Century Project, gives an engaging picture of a changing world in Maine and America in the years between 1890 and 1930.

Guidelines and application materials are available by contacting The Maine Humanities Council, P.O. Box 7202, Portland, ME 04112 or at 773-5051.

The Century Project is funded by a major grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The Maine Humanities Council is a private nonprofit organization, conducting public programs in the humanities as well as making grants to nonprofit organizations.

GREENWOOD BRIDGE WORK

Maintenance work will reduce Morgan Bridge on Route 219 in Greenwood to alternating one-way traffic beginning Monday, Sept. 18, according to the Maine Department of Transportation. The bridge carries Route 219 over Morgan Brook between West Paris and Greenwood.

"The existing wearing surface, or top layer of the bridge deck, is deteriorated and cracking. It needs to be replaced to protect the remainder of the deck from water and road salt and to provide a better ride for vehicles using the bridge," said Everett B. Barnard, head of MDOT's Bridge Maintenance section.

"We plan to work on one side of the bridge at a time, using the other side to maintain alternating one-way traffic controlled by 'Yield' signs," Barnard said. The work is expected to be completed by early November.

ASK A LAWYER

Do the visitation rights of a non-custodial parent prevent the custodial parent from moving out of state with the child?

In Maine, the Courts must make provisions for any children involved in a divorce, including decisions as to parental rights and responsibilities, physical residence, visitation, and support.

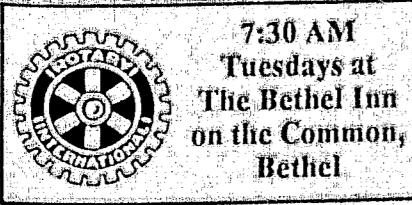

The law provides that either party may return to court to amend or modify the divorce judgment when there is a "substantial change in circumstances." Here, where the parent with primary physical residence is planning to move out of state with the child, there is certainly such a "substantial change."

The parent with visitation rights should return to court to ask for a modification. The parents, their attorneys, and the judge will draw up a new decree to be in "the best interests of the child."

If the parent is seeking to move has sole parental rights and responsibilities, the only change would probably be a modification of the visitation schedule, and perhaps the parents' respective responsibilities for bearing the burden of travel connected with the visitation. However, if the parents have shared rights and responsibilities, or even shared physical residence of the child, the court might order a more radical modification of the original judgment, including a requirement that the physical residence of the child switch to the parent remaining here. Again, the standard used will be "the best interests of the child."

Remember, each case depends entirely on the specific circumstances of the parents and child or children involved, as well as the terms of the original decree. No two cases are exactly alike. In each case, however, the parent seeking to move the residence of a child out of state should provide written notice of such intent to the other parent, to protect against kidnapping allegations. It is also wise to keep a copy of this.

NOTES FROM

Adult Education

The Fall Adult Education classes in the Telstar region will begin during the week of Sept. 18, with additional offerings starting during the following weeks. Registrations have been brisk, according to Adult Education director Cathy Newell, with several courses having reached their limit. Space remains in many of the courses, and registrations are taken by phone, 824-2780, or in person at the office located at Telstar High School.

Classes beginning the week of Sept. 18 include: Gems and Minerals of Oxford County, which will be held in Newry at the home of instructor Norman Davis on Tuesday evenings; Dog Obedience (Basic), taught by Wendy Youmans at the Telstar gym with a choice of 6 to 7 p.m. or 7:15 to 8:15 p.m. sections on Tuesdays; Fly-tying, with John Wight is an intermediate class for those who have had past experience. The Thursday class at Telstar will feature Bead Head Nymphs, Classic Dries, Wolff Flies, Elk Hair Caddis, and Terrestrials; First Aid will meet at the Bethel Area Health Center on Thursdays, Sept. 21 and 28 with Jeannine Thornton; and Polarity Energy Therapy will meet on Mondays at the Adult Learning Center with Emily Ecker.

Woodworking will be held at Telstar on Wednesdays with Tim O'Connor; Small Engines will be held at Telstar on Thursdays with Ed Solar; Woodcarving with Mike Murphy will feature the Drake Green-winged Teal on Tuesdays or Thursdays at Telstar; Video-editing will meet on Wednesdays at Telstar with Tom Remington; Art Basics, a class in design fundamentals for those of all levels, will meet at the Adult Learning Center on Thursday afternoons with Louisa Abarno; Drawing, with an emphasis on self-portraiture with Mickey Liimatta will be held at Telstar on Tuesdays; and Clayworking with Monica Magee will meet at Telstar on Mondays.

A morning Quilting class will meet on Wednesday mornings with Catherine Calef at the Adult Learning Center featuring the Kaleidoscope Pinwheel Quilt; A Christmas Wall-hanging featuring an Antique Santa Claus will be taught by Nancy Hansen on Mondays at Telstar; a Basic Sewing class will be held at Telstar with Lilian Conant Thursdays for those interested in learning how to create their own clothing or home accessories.

Creative Writing will meet at the Adult Learning Center on Wednesday afternoons from 1 to 4 with Jeanette Baldridge; a Women's Writing Group will be held on Tuesdays from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Adult Learning Center, also with Ms. Baldridge; Aerobics will meet at the Learning Center from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays with Louisa Abarno; Playful Dancing will meet at the Learning Center on Mondays from 9 to 11 a.m. with Emily Ecker. Children may attend this class with a parent.

Space remains in the computer classes in WordPerfect for Windows on Wednesdays with a choice of 5 to 7:15 p.m. sections with Ruth Brown at Telstar; due to great interest in introductory classes, an additional section of Introduction to Computers on Mondays from 7 to 9 p.m. has been added with Claire Curver. The class in Lotus 1-2-3 advertised in that time slot will be held in November. There is space for Microsoft Works with Jim Connolly on Tuesdays from 5 to 7 p.m. at Telstar.

For complete details on all courses, call the Adult Education office at 824-2780.

We

are off and running, Wednesday, Sept. 13, from 6:30 to 7:30, will be the open house for the big school. The kindergarten and first grade held their open house before school started. Take this opportunity to acquaint yourselves with your children's teachers, schedules, and expectations for the new year. The annual Fall Book Fair will be open at this time, also. Children will be able to browse and buy from the 12th to the 14th during the morning hours, as well as at the Open House.

An expanded project for all grade levels this year involves recycling. We have been doing recycling of quality paper, newspapers, and cardboard for some time. This year we are including the magazine and junk mail bin and the mixed paper bin. Our trash should be greatly reduced. We are also remembering to reuse as well as recycle. We still have our free magazine rack for children and adults. We encourage reading any way we can. We are proud to be doing our part toward helping both our towns and our environment.

We have several new students to welcome this year. Brand new to school are 21 kindergarten students. Our newest learners are: Sarah Bailey, Sanya Baker, John Davy, Jacob Deans, Joshua Farnum, Amanda Farrar, Carol Fongemie, Amanda Heath, Brian Isley, Bryan Lepore, Jonathan Libby, Kani Marois, Nicole Marshall, Lyndon Marion, Casey Ramsay, Cynthia Scinto, Daniel Scinto, Zachary Severance, Christopher Stevens, Lynsey Tripp, and Megan Whitman. Their teacher is Mrs. Biggers, and they are all looking forward to an exciting year.

Mrs. Cindy Mullen is ready for her first-graders, and new this year are: Tyler Bennett, Grady Guy and Jenelle Pilgrim. Unfortunately, Jenelle has chicken pox and will have to delay her start with us.

Mrs. Loper, who moved up from first grade to second grade with her students, is welcoming three new ones also: Sarah Brulotte, Melissa Gully, and Dennis Russell. And Mrs. Merrill, who moved from second grade to third grade with her students, is welcoming Scott Hill and Seth Tripp to her class.

Grades four, five, and six are welcomeing a total of eight new students. Patrick Elsman, Benjamin Gully, Scott Young, and Alan Young Jr. are in grade four; Erika Cochran, grade five; and Justin Elsman, Michael Stevens Jr., and Katcha Turner have joined the sixth graders.

Most of the nation's colleges and universities award credit for grades of three or higher.

Riley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Riley. He is attending Colby College in Waterville.

*At collegeJOEL RILEY

Joel Riley of West Bethel has been named as an AP Scholar for his performance on Advanced Placement Examinations while at Telstar High School. He is a 1995 Telstar graduate.

Riley qualified for the award by achieving a grade of three or higher on at least three AP exams. The test scale runs from one to five.

Riley took exams in U.S. History, English Language and Composition, English Literature and Composition, and Calculus.

TROY WING

Troy Wing of Prevost Pond received the Reserve Officers Association Award during the Spring Awards Ceremony at Norwich University, Northfield, Vt.

The award is presented to cadets demonstrating outstanding qualities of leadership, moral character and high aptitude for military service.

Troy, a member of the Class of 1996, is majoring in mechanical engineering.

MARTHA NEWELL

Martha Newell has been named a College Scholar at Middlebury College for the spring semester. College Scholar indicates the achievement of a grade point average of 3.5 or higher.

Martha is the daughter of Charlie and Cathy Newell of Locke Mills and is a 1991 graduate of Gould Academy. She is a geography major with a concentration in oceanography and nautical science, a program that included a semester at Sea Education Association at Woods Hole and in the Caribbean.

This summer, Martha has been employed as a cook in Manchester, Vt., and has been playing soccer in the Southern Vermont League as a forward and goalie. She was named Most Valuable Player in the league's championship game.

Anticipating graduation in February, Martha has returned to Middlebury to assist with orientation of freshmen.

PROJECT GRADUATION ORGANIZERS TO MEET

The first meeting to plan this year's Project Graduation activities will take place September 19.

Committee co-chair Gail Wight said organizers encourage this year's junior class members and their parents to get involved in the project.

"We're looking for their input on what they would like to see for Project Graduation in the future," she said.

The program sponsors activities for seniors during graduation week in June.

The meeting is at 6:30 p.m. in room 106 at Telstar.

*Service notesPFC. TOBY LEIGHTON

Marine Pfc. Toby J. Leighton, son of Dianne H. Leighton of Bethel and Alfred T. Leighton of Gilford, recently was promoted to his present rank and reported for duty with 1st Battalion, 25th Marines, 4th Marine Division, Topsham.

He is a 1993 graduate of Telstar Regional High School.

Telstar sports

Boys' Cross Country

Sept. 5 -- Jason Billings placed third, Dana Howe eighth, and Ryan Bernier 11th in a meet against Dirigo, Mt. Abram, and Livermore.

Girls' Cross Country

Sept. 5 -- Becky Chandler finished third, Shanna Walker sixth, Dawn Walsanen seventh, Heidi Blake eighth, and Martha Grover ninth in a meet against Dirigo, Mt. Abram, and Livermore.

Field Hockey

Telstar 4, Winthrop 0

Sept. 6 -- Telstar's 35 shots on goal produced four scores as Telstar defeated Winthrop. Winthrop, meanwhile, only managed six shots throughout the game. Beth Howe scored three times and Liza Fyrberg once. Fyrberg assisted Howe on two of her goals. Sarah Richardson and Michelle McInnis also helped out with offensive carries. The backfield defense was led by Jane Mason and Dani Littlehale. Rebel goalie Jessie Wright had four saves to Winthrop's 28. Telstar's first home game is Friday, against Livermore Falls.

TV viewers can question fish and wildlife commissioner

Outside Line, Maine Public Television's interactive program that allows viewers direct access to Commissioner of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife Ray Owen, returns with a new edition on Tuesday, Sept. 19 at 8 p.m.

The program gives viewers an opportunity to ask the commissioner directly about new laws and regulations which may affect their sport, as well as any other concerns they may have about outdoor activities.

When it premiered at the beginning of the spring and summer recreational season back in May, Outside Line was viewed as an overwhelming success, generating calls from across the state on a variety of issues and concerns. This new edition of the program will again be hosted by MPTV's Don Carrigan.

The program will also be rebroadcast on Wednesday, Sept. 20 at 1 p.m. on the stations of Maine Public Radio: 89.7, 90.1 Portland, 90.9 Bangor, 91.3 Waterville, 106.1 Presque Isle and 106.5 Fort Kent.

THE 1995 TELSTAR HIGH SCHOOL CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM is just that -- a team. With low turnout always a problem, coach John Applin is pleased to have enough runners to compete and score as a team in meets. A minimum of five runners each are required for the boys' and girls' teams. Applin expects overall performance this year to be up from last. "I think both teams will be stronger. For the boys, Dana Howe and Jason Billings are both running better at this point in the season than they were last year. Dana is about a month ahead because he practiced in the summer," Applin said. He said the girls lost a key runner with the graduation of Amy Howe, who often ran way out in front in last year's competitions. "But this year they're finishing close together, and respectfully as a group," he said. The teams generally run a 5,000-meter course -- about 3.1 miles. Also running with the girls' team (but not competing officially) is eighth-grader Jenny Howe. The middle school does not have a team this year. Pictured here, from left, are (front): Martha Grover (So.), Jenny Howe (8th gr.), Shanna Walker (So.), Becky Chandler (Sr.), Heidi Blake (Sr.), Dawn Walsanen (Sr.). Back: Jason Billings (Jr.), Tim Nickerson (So.), Mark Tripp (Sr.), Dana Howe (So.); coach Applin. Absent: Jerry Bernier (Jr.) and Keith Chadbourn (Sr.).

Sleeping Beauty marionette show

The Mahoosuc Arts Council will present the Vermont-based National Marionette Theatre and their production of "The Sleeping Beauty" on Saturday, Sept. 16, at 7 p.m. at Telstar Regional High School. Advance ticket purchases may be made at Preb's Pharmacy in Bethel or call the Mahoosuc Arts office at 824-3575 for reservations until Friday, Sept. 15. Advance ticket prices are $5 for adults and $3 for children under 12. Tickets sold at the door will cost $7 for adults and $5 for children.

This beloved fairy tale about a sleeping princess under a wicked enchantment has been a favorite for generations. It has all the elements of fantasy to excite the imagination: fairy gifts and curses, a magic spinning wheel, an enchanted thornwood forest, the prince's battle with a fire-breathing dragon...and love's first kiss. Using the music from Tchaikovsky's ballet score as an integral part of the show, the National Marionette Theatre has mounted a beautiful production with sumptuous sets and costumes.

The National Marionette Theatre has been in existence for 35 years. Each season the company tours world wide with productions for adults as well as family audience. Noted not only for the beautiful visual look of each show but also for their manipulation technique, they have received numerous awards for their excellence in the field of puppetry.

DYSLEXIA: A common reading problem that does not reflect a person's level of intelligence

My five-year-old son is having trouble learning to read. He often skips words when reading out loud to me. Is this normal for a beginning reader? I'm wondering if this is a sign that he has dyslexia.

Many young children struggle with learning to read, and the reasons vary. However, you are right to wonder whether your son is displaying a sign of dyslexia, a disorder in which an individual experiences difficulty reading or spelling. Omitting words or letters when reading aloud or writing is a prominent sign of the condition.

Other signs of the disorder are low reading comprehension, reading slowly, and distorting or reversing words. A person with dyslexia may, for instance, mistake the word "dog" for "god." The problem is often detected by teachers and parents during a child's first year of school.

You should consult your pediatrician on the matter, as she or he can refer you to the appropriate specialist, such as a pediatric neurologist or a neuropsychologist, who can perform specialized tests to evaluate whether your son does indeed have dyslexia.

The condition, affecting people of all intelligence levels, is not an indication of mental deficiency. It is believed to affect between 5 and 10 percent of all children and tends to persist into adulthood, although symptoms may improve or even disappear over time in individuals with mild cases. Many extremely bright people, including some individuals considered to be "geniuses," have had the condition.

Because dyslexia has only been widely recognized and diagnosed during the last two decades, the problem historically has caused distress and confusion for children, their parents and teachers. Because it was not treated, the condition interfered with the development of patients' reading and writing skills. Now that it is a recognizable condition, dyslexia can be diagnosed through sophisticated testing and treated through special tutoring.

"While children may struggle with the condition, particularly in school, it is possible to learn ways to compensate for the problem that allow a child to succeed at high levels both academically and vocationally," says Roberta White, PhD, director of clinical neuropsychology at Boston University Medical Center.

This "Matters of Health" was written in cooperation with Roberta White, PhD, director of clinical neuropsychology at Boston University Medical Center. Readers with questions about dyslexia or those who wish to discuss other health issues may contact BUMC Health Connection, at 617-351-7700.

News from the
The Bethel Library

Story Hour will begin this Thursday from 10-11 a.m. Children who are three years old are invited to share this hour of reading fun at the library. This year we are hoping to be able to have a separate kindergarten group in another room, so if you have a kindergartener who would like to attend from 10-10:30 (the bus will pick up the students at the library), please join us.

"Check It Out" foreign and classic videos for the month of September are: "The Night They Raided Minsky's," "Salvador," "Weekend in Havana," "Max and Helen," "Trapeze," "Cotton Comes to Harlem," "Goodbye," "Mr. Chips," "Tortilla Flat," "My Best Friend's Girl," and "Paul Bunyan."

Apartment repair loans

The Maine State Housing Authority is offering low-cost loans to finance development of 120 or more affordable rental housing units in Maine. Most of the apartments would be rented to low- or very-low-income tenants, said acting MSHA Development Director Carol Dudley.

The housing authority will offer nearly $2 million in financing for these units, Dudley said. "The apartments will be another step towards addressing Maine's need for improved more affordable apartments for the state's low-income renters."

The funding is under two MSHA programs. The Statewide Housing Acquisition and Rehabilitation Program (SHARP) will provide $1.4 million to purchase and upgrade an estimated 8 to 12 substandard apartment buildings with a total of about 90 units.

New books at the Bethel Library include "Therapy" by David Lodge, "Dead Man's Walk" by McMurry, "Belgarath the Sorcerer" by Eddings, "Lightning" by Danielle Steele, "Songs in Ordinary Time" by Morris, "My Own Country" by Vergheese, "Platte River" by Rick Bass, "Small World" by David Lodge, "The Big Garage on Clear Shot" by Bodett, "Four Ways to Forgiveness" by Ursula LeGuin, "On Gold Mountain" by See, "Burnng Angel" by Burke, "A Long Fatal Love Chase" by Louisa May Alcott, "Blanche Among the Talented Tenth" by Neely, "Stormy Weather" by Huaasen, "Angel of Death" by Jack Higgins, "The Proud and the Free" by Janet Dailey, and "Morning, Noon and Night" by Sidney Sheldon.

The Summer Reading Program festivities are drawing to a close this week. All school children who finished their reading challenge received Pizza Hut certificates last Friday in school, congratulations to all of them. This Thursday from 3-4 p.m., there will be a party for the preschoolers and kindergarteners who completed their reading this past summer. They will also receive a Pizza Hut certificate.

Thanks to the following for generous donations this week: Merrie Lee Ojeda, Libby Banc, and Suzanne Taylor.

MSHA HOMEBUYERS SHOW COMMITMENT TO HOME

Persons who use the Maine State Housing Authority's first-time homebuyer program are making a long-term commitment to owning the home, not just using it as a stepping stone to a more expensive house, according to a recent study of MSHA borrowers.

The housing authority recently studied 5,733 of its loans issued from 1983 through 1986. The survey found that 25 percent of the borrowers still lived in the home they purchased. The median length of ownership was eight years.

A recent (1993) national survey of homebuyers by the National Association of Realtors found that the median length of ownership was six years.

The study indicates that people using MSHA loans are making a long-term commitment to owning the home, not just using it to leverage a more costly home," said MSHA Homeownership Division director Ann Crocker.

TRAIL'S END—Annie Law, 65, finished her 22-year hike of the Appalachian Trail on Saturday. Law, of Honeybrook, Pa., has hiked the 2,157.9-mile trail in bits and pieces since 1973. She has had surgery on both knees along the way. She finished the last 10 miles late Saturday, winding up on the East Branch Hill Road between Andover and Upton. Law picked a rare rainy day to complete her journey. "Everyone I met said it was a lousy day for hiking, I said, 'Who cares — it's my last day,'" she said. Here, Law (third from left) celebrates with a champagne toast at the Evans Notch Motel in Gilead. With her, from left, are Florence Grove, Law's husband Rod, and Kathryn Quann. Grove and Quann, also from Pennsylvania, accompanied Law on the trail from time to time over the years. Rod served as shuttle driver back and forth. (Photo by Alison Alisio)

Obituaries

HAZEL S. CARY

Hazel Edith (Smith) Cary, 84, of Bryant Pond, died Thursday, Sept. 7, 1995, at Ledgeview Nursing Home, where she had been a patient for a short time.

Mrs. Cary was born in Newry on Nov. 3, 1910, daughter of the late Donald and Edna (Bailey) Smith. She graduated from Gould Academy in 1928, and taught for a time in the Richardson Hollow School. She married Charles Henry Cary on Sept. 3, 1933, and they moved to St. Pius X Catholic Church. She enjoyed skiing, camping and family recreation.

Surviving are her husband of several years, Dale T. Johnson of Portland; a daughter, Morgan C. Johnson of Portland; her parents of Bryant Pond; four brothers, Roland and John Clukey, both of Bangor, David Clukey of Ohio State University and Nathan Clukey of Bryant Pond.

A Memorial Mass was celebrated on Tuesday, Sept. 12, at St. Pius X Catholic Church, Portland. Private interment will be in Graceland Memorial Park, Auburn. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Morgan C. Johnson Scholarship, c/o Peoples Heritage Bank, Northgate Shopping Center, 3 Auburn Street, Portland, ME 04103, Attn: Sandy Bailey.

At Mrs. Cary's request, there were no visiting hours and funeral services were private. In lieu of flowers, donations in her memory may be made to Tri-Town Rescue, P.O. Box 275, West Paris, ME 04287.

TERRY A. JOHNSON

Terry A. Johnson, 31, of Portland, died Sunday, Sept. 10, 1995, in a Portland hospital following a long, gallant struggle with cancer.

She was born in Skowhegan, daughter of Harold and Violette (Carey) Clukey. She was educated in Bryant Pond schools and was a graduate of Telstar High School. Mrs. Johnson was employed with Morse, Payson & Noyes for nine years. She was a communicant of St. Pius X Catholic Church. She enjoyed skiing, camping and family recreation.

Surviving are her husband of several years, Dale T. Johnson of Portland; a daughter, Morgan C. Johnson of Portland; her parents of Bryant Pond; four brothers, Roland and John Clukey, both of Bangor, David Clukey of Ohio State University and Nathan Clukey of Bryant Pond.

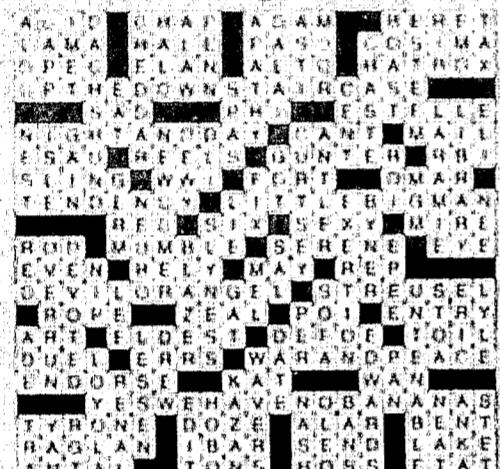

A Memorial Mass was celebrated on Tuesday, Sept. 12, at St. Pius X Catholic Church, Portland. Private interment will be in Graceland Memorial Park, Auburn. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Morgan C. Johnson Scholarship, c/o Peoples Heritage Bank, Northgate Shopping Center, 3 Auburn Street, Portland, ME 04103, Attn: Sandy Bailey.

Mr. & Mrs. Steven R. Pratt

Brenda J. Sweat Pratt and Steven R. Pratt, both of Albany, were united in marriage on Aug. 5 in a double ring ceremony at their home in Albany. Jeri Greenwell, notary public, performed the 1 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Martha E. Sweat of Bethel and the late Marcus "Tim" Sweat. The groom is the son of Raymond and Rose Pratt of Poland.

The bride was given in marriage by her son, Danny Long Jr. of Bethel. She wore a burgundy lace gown and straw hat and carried a cascading bouquet of assorted roses, daisies, black-eyed Susans, irises, mini carnations, astromaria, statice and asparagus fern, intertwined with baby's breath and trailing ivy, made for her by her daughter, Loretta Patenaude of Locke Mills.

The matron of honor was Linda Bonney of Bethel, sister of the bride. Honorary bridesmaids were Georgia Gould of Lynn, Mass., and Loretta Patenaude of Locke Mills, daughters of the bride.

The honorary flower girl was Destiny Danielle Long of Bethel, the bride's granddaughter.

The best man was Tracy Gordon of Albany, nephew of the bride and the ring bearer was Joey Patenaude II of Locke Mills, the bride's grandson.

A reception followed at the couple's home. They enjoyed a wedding dinner the following day at Northland's Restaurant in Berlin, N.H.

The bride graduated from Gould Academy and New Hampshire Vocational-Technical College in Berlin, N.H. She is employed part-time at the Advertiser-Democrat in Norway.

The groom attended Oxford Hills High School and is employed at Bethel Furniture Stock, Inc., in Bethel.
